

The Suspects

Makala Wahini

Detective Wahini is one of Hawaii's finest detectives, but her investigative skills are second only to her uncanny ability to intuit her reckless partner, Halulu (Hal) Okole's every move. She has saved Hal's life no less than thirty six times, a debt she won't let him forget when the bar tab arrives. Makala is vivacious, independent and strong, is a crack shot and has a mean right hook.

Ha'iku Mahalulu

Ha'iku is an entrepreneuss, and co-owner in a luau dancer doll stand, which attracts tourists from all over the islands because of their renowned selection of dancing dolls, typically displayed on tourists' dashboards upon their return home. Ha'iku is friendly and enthusiastic, and is well-known all over the islands for her happy disposition.

Keiki Kealoha

Keiki is the daughter of one of Oahu's most treasured men. Her family has owned a large piece of stunning beach front property for generations, and vowed to keep it, despite the multi-million dollar offers they received almost weekly from developers. She is passionate about Hawaii and the original Polynesian culture, and is not afraid to stand up for her family and Hawaii when she feels someone is speaking ill of either.

Halulu (Hal) Okole

Halulu, more commonly known as “Hal”, is a detective, and one of the island's most notorious. His quick-witted sarcasm is second only to his shoot-first-and-ask-questions-later approach to law enforcement, and it seems not a week goes by without him ending up in a sticky situation of some sort. Good thing his partner, the vivacious Makala Wahini, is usually not far away, and has made bailing him out of dangerous situations her number one priority.

Keanu Keawe

Ex-surfing champion Keanu Keawe is a native of Hawaii, and a celebrated local celebrity. In spite of his surfing fame, he recently retired from competing to start his own business, teaching women on vacation how to surf. His business is thriving, partially thanks to his startling good looks and his charisma. Needless to say, he has a reputation for being a real ladies' man.

Jackson Haines

Jackson Haines is one of the richest real estate moguls on the island. His track record is immaculate, and his client list reads like a who's who of celebrities and the world's wealthy. He is a no-nonsense businessman who thinks of nothing but the bottom line, a practice responsible for his unbelievable wealth and success.
