

The Suspects

Kathleen Merwin

Kathleen owns Merwin Events, a boutique event planning and execution company. Kathleen is reputed to be the best event planner in the area, and people pay thousands just for the chance to have her consult on their party or event. Efficient yet graceful, Kathleen is happy to be behind the scenes, ensuring everything is going smoothly while her hosts take the glory for the event. She is lovely and graceful, and wears an elegant cocktail dress.

Anita Rooney

A tenacious go-getter, Anita Rooney is vivacious and boisterous, joyful and fun. She has a wide smile that will brighten any room, a boon in her career as partner at Merwin Events, a boutique event planning company owned by Kathleen Merwin. Always immaculately put together, Anita wears a designer dress, loaned to her by her good friend, fashion designer Clement Martinez.

Marilou Cutrone

Marilou is the wife of a local pastor at a church that, each week, is packed with stars and celebrities. Because of this, she is invited to a number of high-society events each year, and this is her fifth year attending Betty Crosby's Christmas Party. Don't be fooled by her public position however – where most people expect her to be mild-mannered and kind, she can be quite the opposite; catty and quick to gossip! With the caliber of parishioners through the doors each Sunday, the church does quite well, and Marilou has worn her only designer dress to the Winter Wonderland party this evening.

Seline Ruse

One of the country's most renowned musicians, Seline is a professional harpist, and plays with the local philharmonic orchestra. A woman in high demand, having her present to play at Betty Crosby's party tonight would have cost The Crosbys a pretty penny. Seline is beautiful, elegant and tasteful, and even though she is at the party working, could be one of the best-dressed in attendance. She wears a long, elegant dress.

Matilda Teasport

Betty Crosby's Personal Assistant Matilda is vapid and self-entitled. Obsessed with appearances, high society and celebrity gossip, Matilda is seemingly the perfect person for the job. Her smart phone is like her third hand, and she has been deemed the "Queen of the Selfies" by her close-knit group of party friends. Matilda has shiny hair, perfectly-manicured nails and tends to use the word "like" as though it's a form of punctuation. She wears a daring designer dress that draws gasps of both shock and admiration, and a pair of sparkly heels.

Eve Hoffman

Local politician Eve Hoffman is gearing up for the upcoming mayoral election. As a local counselor, she has been involved in politics since she was in University and knows how to work a room. The preferred candidate of both the host Betty and her husband Joseph, Eve Hoffman's campaign is largely sponsored by the power-couple. Eve is tenacious and dedicated to her candidacy, and while she knows her presence at tonight's party will help her campaign, she is a regular at Betty Crosby's Christmas party even when it's not an election year. Eve wears a sensible black dress.

Bo Bronzo

Extravagant and over-the-top, Bo is a celebrity stylist, and is attending tonight's party in a working capacity; Betty Crosby is one of his biggest clients. Charged with hair, make-up and keeping clients in the latest fashions, Bo is shallow and indifferent, believing that fashion and celebrity as a whole are the most important things in life. It's this mentality that keeps him wealthy and in constant demand among socialites and Hollywood's elite. Always busy and on-edge, Bo scampers around in a fashion-forward sweater-and-slacks outfit that has those "in the know" raving, and those who aren't up on the latest runway fashions scratching their heads.

Joseph Crosby

Husband of the party host Betty Crosby, Joe is an international football sensation. His moves on the field have scored him a giant contract with the local team, as well as numerous endorsement deals. In spite of this, Joseph remains level-headed about his celebrity. While his wife Betty enjoys spending his money on extravagant things, Joseph is dedicated to making a difference in the world, and has recently started his own charity called The Crosby Foundation. With his busy schedule, he has designated his wife Betty the head of the foundation. Joseph wears a designer suit, and wears it very well.
